DR. JOHNSON CHALLENGES REP. JOHN McHUGH TO AN ONLINE PRINT DEBATE IN RACE FOR U.S. HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, NEW YORK DISTRICT 23

WATERTOWN, NY – Dr. Robert Johnson, Democratic candidate for the United States House of Representative, New York District 23, has issued a formal challenge to debate the issues with Republican Representative John McHugh in a new online forum from The Print Debate Center of Sausalito, CA.

"I very much believe that we have a responsibility to discuss the issues that affect our country and our district. I would therefore invite Mr. McHugh to participate with me in the online Print Debate," Johnson said.

The Print Debate Center (www.printdebate.com) offers a new and unique opportunity to engage in an honest debate on the important issues of health care, jobs, balancing the budget, protecting our air and water quality and our foreign policy. "These are the big issues that face not only our district but our country as well, and our constituents deserve an open exchange of ideas and solutions," Johnson said.

The Print Debate structure also provides a chance for constituents to question both candidates directly. "This will afford the voters of the district to have a clear understanding of our policies and our vision of the future," Johnson said.

According to Print Debate terms and protocols, Rep. McHugh has until Friday, October 1 at 5:00 PM EST to respond to Johnson's debate challenge. The debate will be hosted on www.printdebate.com and will take place throughout the month of October.

"I hope that Mr. McHugh shares my enthusiasm and willingness to engage in a real discussion of the issues," Johnson said. "I will be looking forward to receiving his response in the next few days."
